Direct: (914) 305-8680

Susan Formosa focuses her practice on medical malpractice defense, representing hospitals, physicians, and other medical personnel in high-stakes litigation. She joined Fullerton Beck with a strong background in this area of the law, having started her career as an intern in the Office of the General Counsel at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center and later working for regional New York law firms in this practice area. Susan also practices in general liability defense.

Susan earned her B.A. degree from Villanova University (2014) and her J.D. degree from Fordham University School of Law (2017), where she was associate editor of the Journal of Corporate and Financial Law. At Fordham, Susan also participated in its Criminal Defense Clinic and the Suspension Representation Project, representing middle and high school students at their suspension hearings.

Susan is admitted to practice in the state of New York.
