Eileen Becker is the managing partner of Fullerton Beck's Connecticut office. A veteran litigator with over 25 years of experience and a member of the prestigious American Board of Trial Advocates, Eileen is an aggressive trial attorney who has taken nearly 40 cases to verdict. She represents individuals, businesses and other organizations in civil litigation, typically personal injury defense matters involving automobile accidents, premises liability, professional liability, and product liability. She also has extensive experience representing healthcare professionals and facilities in medical malpractice litigation. At any given time, she manages an active docket of 35-40 cases, many of which are high-exposure matters encompassing wrongful death, traumatic brain injury, orthopedic injuries, and a spate of other claims. Before joining Fullerton Beck, Eileen ran her own law firm and worked in the Connecticut offices of national law firms. She also worked in the Philadelphia office of an Am Law 100 firm. Education Rutgers University School of Law, magna cum laude, JD Syracuse University, AB Awards & Recognition Connecticut Super Lawyers Best Lawyers Membership & Affiliation American Board of Trial Advocates Connecticut Bar Association New Haven County Bar Association Connecticut Defense Lawyers Association Admissions Connecticut US District Court, District of Connecticut US District Court, Southern District of New York US Court of Appeals, Second Circuit
