Nadira Rahman, a recent graduate of Rutgers Law School, gained invaluable experience through various internships during law school, including in the Litigation Practice of an Am Law 50 law firm and with the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York. She honed skills such as managing cases, conducting client interviews, and drafting legal briefs that she will utilize in her role at Fullerton Beck. Passionate about social justice, Nadira also interned at the Child Advocacy Clinic at Rutgers Law School and the American Civil Liberties Union Foundation - New Jersey, where she further refined her skills.

Education:

In addition to interning, Nadira enhanced her advocacy skills as a member of the Rutgers National Trial Team. She earned her Bachelor of Arts from Barnard College, Columbia University. Nadira is fluent in Bengali.
